Just like most of the races for the various district championships, the battle for individual and team scoring honors goes right down to the final week of action.

Robby Day of Falls Church and T.C. Williams are the leaders who are being pressed to finish on top, a position each has held for most of the year.

Day failed to score last week while his challengers Frankie Glascoe of T. C. Williams and Annandale's Mike Lucido, both added to their totals.

Day has 82 points on 13 touchdowns and two two-point conversions. Those conversions are the only thing keeping him in the lead for both Glascoe and Lucido have 78 points with 13 touchdowns each.

Smitty Lineberger of St Stevens holds down fourth place with 66 points on 10 scores and three two-point conversions in eight games.

Alvin Cowans rounds out the top five, but just barely with 58 points. Any number of players could knock him out of fifth, should he falter this week.

Marshall exploded for 41 points against Langley and is challenging T. C. Williams for the team championship. The Titans have scored 240 points a 26.7 average while the Statesmen have 234 a 26.0 mark. It's a safe bet that one of them will be the team champion for the third place St Stephen's has a 22.8 average. Episcopal is fourth at 19.3 and Fairfax fifth at 17.8.

The Titans seem to be a safe bet to hold on to defensive honors. With seven shut outs in nine games, the Titans have allowed just 2.6 points a game. Woodson is second at 4.9 with Fairfax (6.9), Marshall (7.7) and Fort Hunt (8.3) rounding out the top five.
